*Disclosure of your social security number (SSN) is voluntary. In certain cases (e.g., with federal financial aid applications and for employment purposes), disclosure of SSN is required by law. If you provide your SSN, it will appear on your student identification card and be used for various University administrative purposes. If you do not provide your SSN, a student number will be assigned to you and you may experience a delay in services because of the time needed to match your application file against files which use SSN.
