

The Dispute Resolution Network of the Ozarks

Membership Application

The Dispute Resolution Network of the Ozarks exists to serve the needs of those with an interest in the field of alternative dispute resolution (ADR), including mediators, practitioners, consultants, parenting coordinators, restorative justice practitioners, and others. Its goal is to provide networking and educational opportunities and to strengthen the professional and personal bonds of those in the ADR field. Join online at www.MissouriState.edu/CDR or complete the application below and return it to the Center for Dispute Resolution (CDR) at Missouri State University.

Benefits of Membership

There are so many reasons to join the Dispute Resolution Network of the Ozarks! Here are just a few...

- Deep relationships - Three yearly luncheons in the fall, winter, and spring and constant online discussion opportunities allow you to keep up with fellow Network members.
- Relevant knowledge - Take advantage of the experience and knowledge of fellow members through online discussions in an exclusive password-protected online discussion board and at regular Network luncheons.
- Valuable skills and continuing education - Receive a minimum 10% discount on training and continuing education through the Center for Dispute Resolution (discounts may vary for co-sponsored events)
- Research and updates - Enjoy full access to the informational website listings, article libraries, and research.
- Advertising and promotion opportunities - Receive an optional free listing on the Center for Dispute Resolution's website, which displays members' names, contact information, and areas of specialty.
- Training updates - Access a comprehensive list of upcoming trainings in a variety of related fields.

Optional Website Listing

Members of the Network may elect to receive a free listing on the Center for Dispute Resolution's website. Please mark below any information you would like listed on the CDR's Network Members' webpage listing:
