- Endowed Chair of Hispanic Assimilation
- Multicultural Leadership Scholarships (ongoing)

2012

April:
- Dr. Chris Craig appoints PEU Assessment and Steering Committees
- Another approach key to our efforts at the unit level is assuring that candidates have opportunity to interact and learn from individuals in the area of disability. The Head of the Unit, and the university’s Associate Provost, is totally blind and plays an active role in teaching courses at the advanced level in special education. Dr. Paul Ajuwon, who teaches exclusively on-line, is totally blind and is from Nigeria.
- Committees formed:
  o Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Council
  o Diversity Coordination Task Force
- Diversity Perspectives Newsletter
- Efforts to better support candidates from diverse backgrounds for admission to teacher education

June:
- Assessment Committee develops recommendations and implementation plan for diversity traits, dispositions, and outcomes

July:
- Development of Assessment Committee recommendations of PEU on diversity proficiencies and dispositions
- President’s approval of Diversity in Education Scholarships for entering freshman and transfer candidates representing diverse backgrounds pursuing the study of professional education

August:

  o Comprehensive list of field experiences (ongoing review)
  o Student services adjusts placement for candidates identified as deficient for diverse experiences
• Approval of EDC 345 - Introduction to Multicultural Education and Diversity as unit-wide class

December:
• Meeting with Computer Services to modify clinical logs to code level of diversity placements and attain additional pertinent data on candidate diversity proficiencies
  o New portfolio feature that keeps track of diversity placements
• Pilot data collected on diversity dispositions and traits using STEP system for all student teachers

2013

January:
• Computer clinical log system modified and implemented across the unit during student teaching semester
• The student teacher final evaluation is completed by the supervisor and cooperating teacher. There are several items that assess differentiated instruction and impact on diverse learners (Ex 4.43 for Student Teaching Final Evaluation and data). All student teachers meet several times each semester to discuss important topics. Diversity issues are often topics of these meetings.

- The concept of a practical skills application component added to all options within the advanced programs provides practicing teachers and other professionals opportunities to demonstrate capacity for differentiating interactions in a wide range of educational and community contexts. The practical skills application ensures all candidates in advanced programs have diverse experiences.
- Member of Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities
- Hiring of Francine Pratt who is working with PEU on a number of projects

- PEC approval of new diversity proficiencies for candidates (initial and advanced)
- Initial draft of Institutional Report posted for review by PEU
- Staffing plans for diverse faculty to teach EDC 345 and other key PEU classes
- Meeting with program coordinators on ensuring diverse field placements for all candidates and adjustments made to fall student teaching based on this analysis
- Meeting with program coordinators on diversity proficiencies and key courses across PEU

April:
- The PEU has worked with community members who represent diverse backgrounds. They are invited to participate in discussion on multicultural education and the infusion of proficiencies into the curriculum such as the meeting held in February. We have also appointed many of these participants as adjunct faculty, which provides for better communication participation with our candidates in a variety of classroom and community based experiences. Dr. Coopwood, VP for the Division of Inclusion and Diversity will be teaching educational psychology for initial candidates and working with all student teachers.

- Teleconference with Harris Stowe to discuss student and faculty diversity exchange programs
- Formal MOU signed by President Smart of MSU and Chancellor Johnson from University of Arkansas Pine Bluff for diversity exchange program
- Continued work of Diversity Committee for Diversity in Education Scholarships with one additional African American student
- The unit has developed coursework that could be offered in either an on-line or specialized delivery system to increase access to diverse candidates attending minority institutions such as the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff (UAPB) and Harris-Stowe State University (HSSU). Conversations have occurred with administrators from UAPB during spring 2013. Opportunities discussed include both scholarships and agreements waiving 75% of the out-of-state tuition to help facilitate a more diverse graduate candidate population and create more opportunities for advanced candidates to have meaningful interactions with candidates from UAPB.
