Pre-Professional Programs

The University provides prerequisite courses and degrees for students seeking entrance into professional schools. Students are regularly admitted to leading schools in all professional areas. Because admission to most professional schools is highly competitive, students are urged to work closely with an academic advisor on the selection of courses and the sequence in which they are to be taken. Although there are general guidelines for each profession, students should contact the professional program(s) they intend to pursue for specific admission criteria.

Through this program students live and study in London, England, and receive credit directly from Missouri State. Registration is through Missouri State during the regular enrollment for each semester. Courses offered will vary from semester to semester and will be taught by participating faculty from each of the consortium institutions and by British nationals. The Missouri London Program is located in Kensington in central London. Classrooms are located at the Imperial College of the University of London. Frequent excursions are made to English and European places of interest.

The University participates in a reciprocal student exchange program with University of Ballarat, Victoria; and University of Tasmania, Hobart. Through this program, students pay Missouri State tuition and fees to study for a semester or a year in Australia. Transfer of credit is arranged through the Study Away Programs office. Coursework is offered across the curriculum.

Pre-Engineering. The Department of Mathematics, the Department of Physics, Astronomy and Materials Science, and the collaborative Engineering Program share student advisement for all pre-engineering areas. Most students select a major in one of the two departments or continue on with our collaborative Engineering Program. Contact either department or the Engineering Office, Kemper Hall, room 226, for details.

Pre-Health Professions. The University provides pre-professional education for a variety of health occupations. Some of these professional programs require the completion of a bachelor's degree while others encourage students to apply much earlier in their educational careers. Students may decide on any major area offered by the University, provided they complete the admission requirements for their chosen professional program. In those departments most heavily involved in providing the required academic background, special advisors have been trained for each of the various health areas. General information on health profession careers and academic preparation is provided by the Academic Advisement Center, University Hall, room 109 or visit the web site at: www.missouristate.edu/prehealth.

Pre-Law. Pre-law students draw on courses, facilities, and services from throughout the University, but primarily those in the Colleges of Humanities and Public Affairs, Arts and Letters, and Business Administration. Many professors have expertise in law-related subjects, teaching in areas such as political science, economics, history, philosophy, the sciences, and business administration, among others. The Academic Advisement Center, departmental pre-law advisors, and Phi Alpha Delta Pre-Law Club sponsored by the Department of Political Science, can assist, direct, and inform students seeking admission to law school.
