How do you describe the course to students when they ask “What is this class about?” (Without using the catalog description)?

Writing II applications directly related to Geology major professional practice.

Beyond meeting a General Education requirement, what benefits can students realize from choosing this course?

It also is the Public Affairs 'capstone' course for Geology majors - and includes writing Resumes and Cover Letters (to gain employment in the Geology profession) as part of the course.

Other than your major/minor/certificate students, what groups of students could find this course relevant to their degree program or career path?

Due to specialized nature of the Public Affairs capstone assignment[s], does not appear likely that students who are not geology major/minor/certificate students will be prepared to succeed in the course.

Catalog Description (Fall 2022 Undergraduate Catalog)

Techniques and strategies for locating and accessing technical geological information. Preparation of technical reports and presentations on geologic topics with emphasis on the styles and formats of the Geological Society of America and the United States Geological Survey. Public Affairs Capstone Experience course.
