

Example Sue Shear bios:

Julia [LastName] is a junior Geospatial Sciences major at Missouri State University. In high school, she was a member of the International Baccalaureate program as well as the Editor-in-Chief of her school newspaper, a member of her tennis team, class treasurer and an active Relay for Life captain. She has volunteered at the Ronald McDonald House since 2011 and volunteers her time to several other community organizations. She is also a member of the Honors College and the Geography Club at Missouri State. [Lastname] hopes to use her skills for the good of environmental sustainability through her technical work and by influencing public policy.

Michelle [LastName] is a sophomore in the Honors College at Missouri State University. She is majoring in English Literature with minors in Music and History. Once she graduates, [LastName] is going to attend graduate school with the goal of attaining her doctorate and teaching English and writing at the college level. She has a passion for travel and teaching, and hopes to incorporate both into her career future. She is a recent inductee of Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society, and is involved in volunteering with Ozarks Food Harvest and orchestra outreach. [LastName] is active in English events through the university, including presenting a paper at the annual Undergraduate Literature Conference this semester.

Shannon [LastName] is a first year student at Missouri State University and is currently studying Socio-Political Communication. She plans to complete her undergraduate degree in three years before pursuing her master's degree through the Accelerated Master's Program. She is dedicated to her schoolwork, currently holding a 3.8 GPA, and enjoys studying public policy, media, and professional writing. She is passionate about politics at all levels and is currently a Senator for the Student Government Association at Missouri State University, receiving the Senator of the Month award earlier this year. While [LastName] enjoys these pursuits, she is also an active member of Phi Eta Sigma, an international honors fraternity, as well as the Recreational Outdoor Club, where she enjoys rock climbing and cliff jumping with her friends.