The screenshot shows the Curriculum Planning & Management website. At the top, there are three red squares. Below them is the title "CURRICULUM PLANNING & MANAGEMENT" in large, bold, black letters. Under the title is a paragraph: "Curriculum Planning & Management partners with the Office of the Provost to provide expertise and resources for curriculum submission through the faculty-led curricular process. This unit consults on curriculum design and planning while overseeing the systems, processes and practices essential to successful curriculum implementation." Below this paragraph are two red-bordered boxes. The left box contains the text "PROPOSAL SUBMISSION & RESOURCES (NEW & NOVICE USERS)" and a red arrow points to it from the bottom left. The right box contains the text "CURRICULOG (DIRECT ACCESS FOR EXPERIENCED USERS)" and a red arrow points to it from the top right. Below these boxes is a grid of six white boxes with gray borders. The first box on the left is a sidebar menu titled "CURRICULUM PLANNING & MANAGEMENT" and contains links: "University Catalogs", "Curriculum Support", "Office of the Provost", "Faculty Senate", "CPM Staff", and "Contact Us". The other five boxes are arranged in a 2x2 grid (with the last cell empty) and contain the following text: "University Catalogs", "Curriculum Support", "Curriculum Information", and "Curriculum Proposals-Submission Deadlines & Effective Terms".
