Internal Senate Action to Remove Substantive Distinction from Curricular Actions Recommended by the Faculty Senate Committee on Rules

Whereas, the Faculty Senate Committee on Rules was charged to investigate the distinction between substantive and non-substantive curricular items; and

Whereas, the Faculty Senate Committee on Rules has found no current value in the distinction established by Senate Action 11-93/94 from 1993; and

Whereas, the periodicity for courses, a characteristic labeled non-substantive by Senate Action 11-93/94, is now handled in an expedited manner separate from the complete curricular review process; and

Whereas, the differentiation between substantive and non-substantive provided by Senate Action 11-93/94 was found to be ambiguous by a review of the Faculty Senate Committee on Rules; and

Whereas, the investigation for this charge revealed that this ambiguous distinction between substantive and non-substantive is creating inconsistent review of curricular items by various faculty committees and councils;

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that the distinction between substantive and non-substantive curricular items be dropped; and

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that the question asking about such a distinction be removed from all online forms within the Curricular Action Workflow (CAW).
