Federal Direct Stafford Student Loan Borrowing Limits

Your school determines the loan types(s), if any, and the actual loan amount you are eligible to receive each academic year. However, there are limits on the amount of subsidized and unsubsidized loans that you may be eligible to receive each academic year (annual loan limits) and the total amount that you may borrow for undergraduate and graduate study (aggregate loan limits). The actual loan amount you are eligible to receive each academic year may be less than the annual loan limit. These limits vary depending on 1) year in school, 2) dependent or independent as reported on the FAFSA, and 3) other sources of financial assistance.

*Dependent students, who parents are denied for a Federal Direct PLUS Loan, may receive additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan funds.

The following chart shows the annual and aggregate limits for subsidized and unsubsidized loans.

Year in School	Dependent Students (parent's signature was required on your FAFSA)	Independent Students (parent's signature was not required on your FAFSA) *Dependent undergraduates whose parents are denied a PLUS Loan
