YOU CAN DO THIS!

The thought of going back to school can be daunting, but our programs are designed to help you succeed. Just ask Marcus Binns, a Little Rock native who is pursuing his Master of Science in Nursing Education.

He works and became a father while enrolled in the program.

"It offered the mixture of in-person and online options that I needed. It was flexible. I absolutely recommend this program. I went into health care to help those who were unable to help themselves. Now, I am moving into health care education so that my future students can spread that help farther and wider than I can do as an individual. If you are considering going back to school but are scared of the commitment, I guarantee you can accomplish your goal," Binns said.
