TRIO Upward Bound: The Public Affairs College- Going Pipeline

Presented by: Nicholas Horne- Director of TRIO Upward Bound

MSU University Council Meeting 4/7/2026

TRIO

What is TRIO?

Federally funded under the Higher Education Act (Title IV)

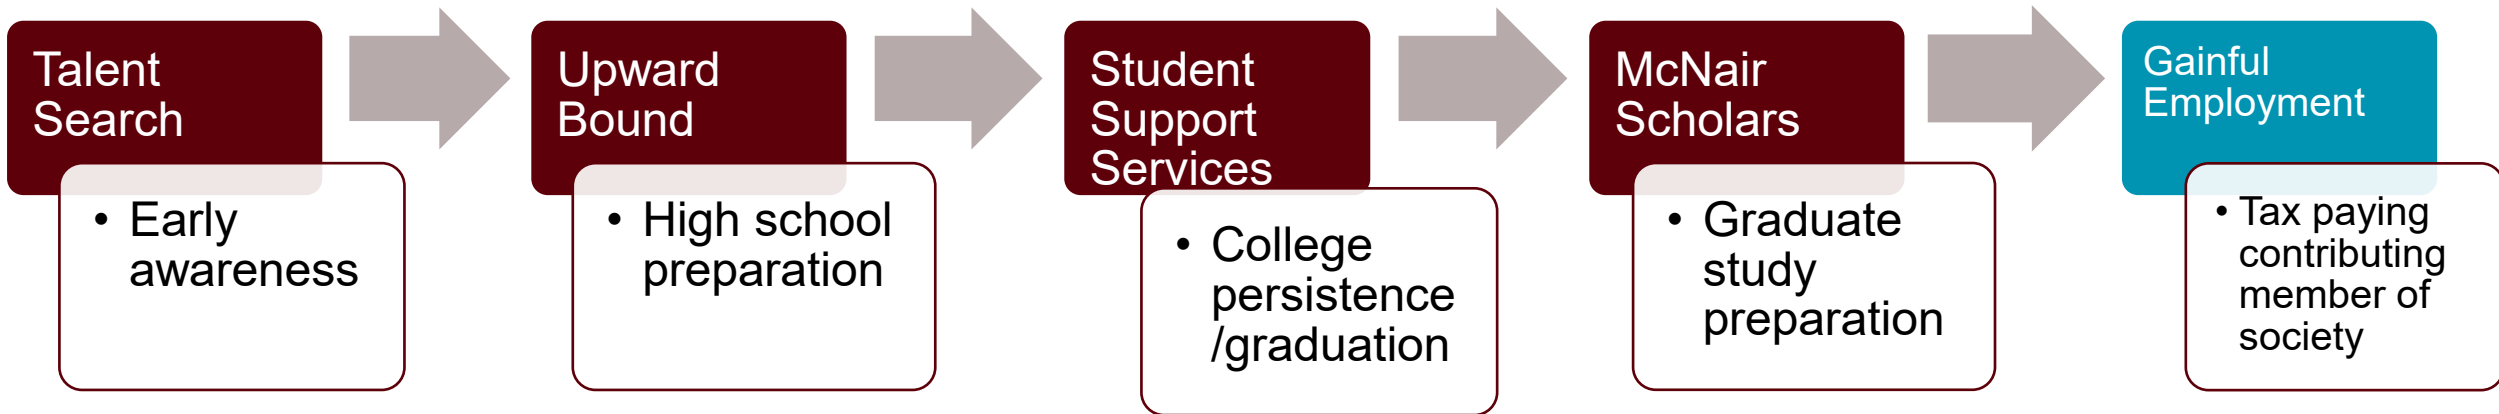

National college access initiatives – 8 grants in total

Focus: low-income & first-generation students

TRIO as a Pipeline

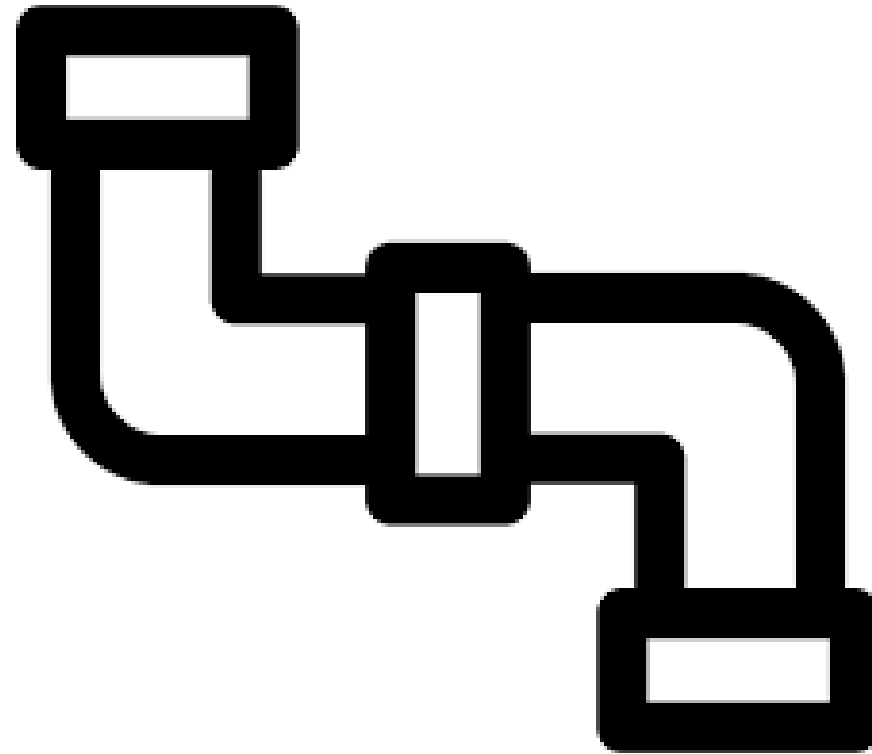

Lifecycle Approach to Student Success

TRIO operates as a pipeline—not isolated programs

Pipeline NOT Recruitment

Critical Distinction

While not explicitly stated in a single regulatory clause, the prohibition on using Upward Bound for host institution recruitment is derived from:

- HEA §402A program purpose
- 34 CFR 645.1 (program intent)
- 2 CFR 200 cost allowability and allocability
- U.S. Department of Education TRIO guidance requiring programs to serve students' best interests rather than institutional enrollment goals.

Where Upward Bound Fits

Pre-college program for high school students

Increase skills and motivation for post-secondary education

Academic + social + college readiness support

Goal: high school graduation + college enrollment + completion

TRIO PATHWAY TO MISSOURI STATE UNIVERSITY

TRIO Upward Bound helps first-generation and low-income students develop the skills, motivation, and confidence they need to succeed in high school and make it to college, and Missouri State University is where that journey continues.

POTENTIAL MSU STUDENT

Amiley Rost | Parkview High School | Sophomore

“The most impactful part of TRIO has been visiting Greenwood Rising, which taught me things that should be a necessity to learn in school. Mrs. Christi, Mr. Horne, Ms. Judi, and the TRIO counselors have taught me things about college that my parents cannot.

I want to join MSU because of the amazing TRIO scholarship, the vet program, and a zoology career path. My aunt and I would walk around campus dreaming about this day. I am thankful TRIO is making that dream a reality.”

INCOMING MSU STUDENT

Russell Fullington | Central High School | Senior

“I joined TRIO during my sophomore year. TRIO has helped me discover my passions, grow my social skills, and given me the confidence to pursue my dream of becoming a music teacher.

I felt supported every step of the way.

I chose Missouri State because it's affordable, close to home, and has an excellent music program that fits my goals. TRIO made the decision even easier by reminding me I would have a familiar support system on campus. I'm especially excited to join the Pride Band and the Cheese Club as I start this next chapter.”

CURRENT MSU STUDENT

Jebet Togom | MSU | Freshman

“One of the most memorable TRIO experiences was Summer Academy, where I took public speaking and College Algebra for dual credit, saving time in my college schedule. Through TRIO, I also went on college tours across Missouri and out of state, which helped me understand what I wanted in a college and led me to choosing Missouri State. I am currently a freshman working on my prerequisites for the nursing program, and because of TRIO, I felt very familiar and prepared starting college.”

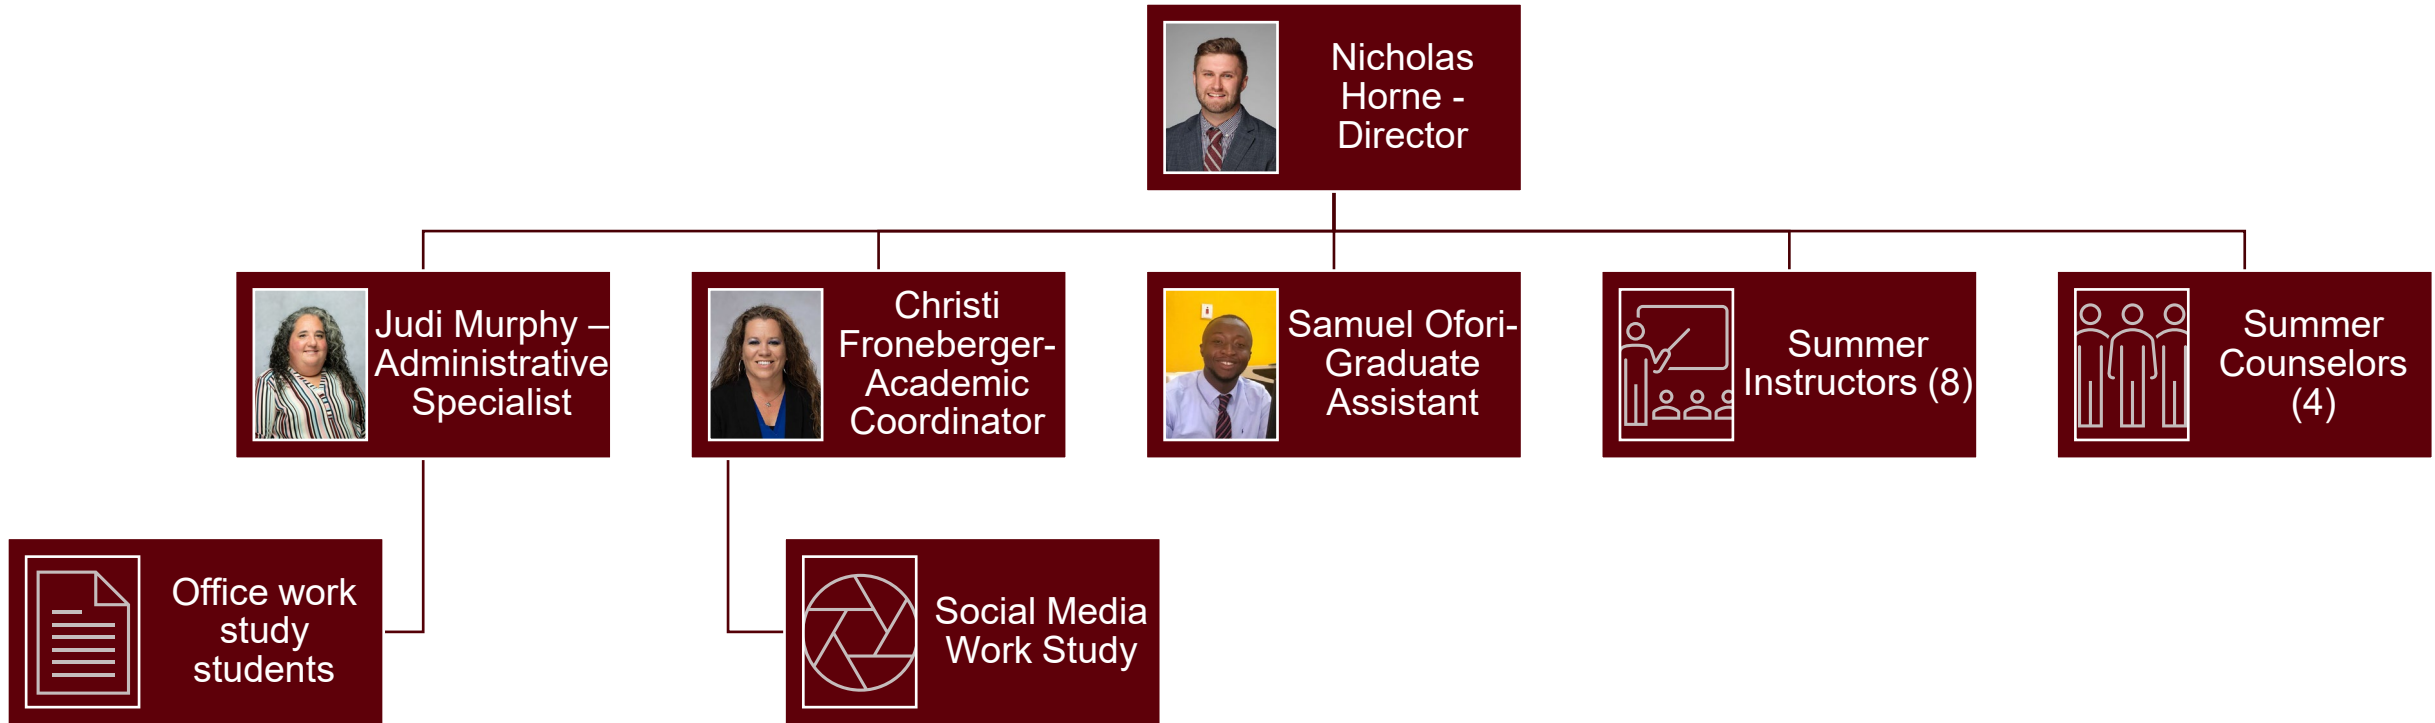

TRIO at Missouri State since 1972^{*}

Our mission is to equip students with the knowledge, confidence, skills, and resources to exceed their academic potential and become contributing members of society. The Missouri State University TRIO

Upward Bound Program empowers students from diverse backgrounds to achieve academic success, fostering the skills and motivation needed for high school graduation, post-secondary enrollment, and degree completion. We foster a supportive learning environment that promotes student engagement, involvement, and academic excellence. Through partnerships with educational institutions, community organizations, and public affairs entities, we strive to increase student retention and graduation rates.

*Since 1972, MSU has had at least one TRIO program. Maybe not always Upward Bound
